

Kids Chinese Course Open House Kicks off at Confucius Institute at Troy University Montgomery Campus

Confucius Institute at Troy University Montgomery Campus organized an Open House on February 3, 2015 to introduce the Chinese courses for kids. The introduction was made to the kids and parents. Some parents registered their children shortly after the introduction.

Requested by the parents, this Open House involves orientation and registration for kids at different levels. Dr. Xu, the director of Confucius Institute at Troy University, whose academic focus has been on analyzing Chinese textbooks in the North American for over twenty years, presents the idea of Chinese teaching material selection and use for the parents. Thus, the presentation helped the parents a lot.

Confucius Institute at Troy University Montgomery Campus begins kids Chinese courses at different levels this semester. The registration is still in process. For more information, please contact Ms. Qiu. You can reach her at jiuqiu@troy.edu or 334-240-7325.
