

Boy Scott Visited the Confucius Institute at Troy University

On October 24th, 2015, the Confucius Institute at Troy University (CIT) hosted a delegation of 12 Boy Scotts from Southeast Alabama Association. CIT staff showed them the items displayed in the Chinese culture exhibition hall and introduced the origins and traits of each cultural item. The questions raised from the Boy Scott were also replied by the staff.

CIT host 10,000 visitors from all walks of life more than a hundred time every year. All the visitors gave credit for CIT's contribution to the cultural communication between Chinese and American. The Chinese culture exhibition hall at CIT functions as a pioneer camp for promoting Chinese traditional culture.
