

Confucius Institute at Troy University Host Chinese Mid-Autumn Festival Celebration

At the evening of Sep. 15th, 2015, the Confucius Institute at Troy University (CIT) host Chinese Mid-Autumn festival celebration. Dr. Earl Ingram, the Senior Vice Chancellor, Dr. Cut Porter, the Associate Vice Chancellor, Chinese visiting scholars and some Trojans were invited to be present. There are also the wonderful performances along with the banquet.

Mid-Autumn Day is an important traditional Chinese festival. CIT grasped this opportunity to promote Chinese culture. Also, the traditional food for Mid-Autumn—Chinese mooncake, offered by CIT, were tasted by the present guests. This wonderful performance and delicious food were well-received and highly-praised by both Chinese and American friends. Those performers included the exchange students from China, Chinese visiting scholars and their families, and the students in CIT Chinese Program

The Vice Senior Chancellor, Dr. Ingram and visiting scholar representative, Prof. Tingting Xiong delivered a speech respectively. CIT Director Dr. Iris Xu, along with Dr. Ingram, awarded certificate and souvenirs to some excellent students.
